RE: Notice of Insufficient Legal Verification - [Reference/Account Number]

Dear [Recipient Name],

I am writing in response to your correspondence dated [Date of their letter], which was intended to serve as verification for the above-referenced matter.

Upon review, your response is insufficient and fails to provide the necessary legal verification required under [Specific Law, e.g., the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA) or Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA)]. The documentation provided does not adequately prove the validity of the claim or your legal authority to pursue this matter.

Please provide the following documentation within [Number] days of receipt of this letter:

- Certified copies of the original contract or agreement.
- A complete itemized statement of the alleged balance, including all interest and fees.
- Proof of your legal authorization to collect or report on this specific account.
- Evidence that the statute of limitations for this matter has not expired.

Failure to provide competent legal evidence will result in my treating this claim as disputed and invalid. I expect all collection and/or reporting activities regarding this matter to cease until full verification is provided.

Sincerely,

[Your Signature]
